WHAT ATTENDEES ARE SAYING

Authentic engagement from exhibitors. They listened to the concern/issue I was attempting to resolve or improve and provided real solutions based on their expertise not just a 'oh yeah we can do that' type of comment.

- Kerry Steed, Generations Pizza

Having representatives sit down with you individually to discuss your interests and create samples on the spot really enhances the connection between the brand and their customers. This level of attention not only showcases the products but also makes you feel valued as a participant. It made for a unique and engaging experience that really stood out.

- Jamey Goar,
Ben E Keith Foods

The International Pizza Expo is a great show for innovation and connection. I appreciate the variety of vendors at the show. It is helpful to get in front of the product and have the experts there to answer all questions. Definitely worth the money spent to be at the show.

- Heather Pennington,
Avanti Restaurant
Solutions

Being able to sample ingredients was invaluable at this event. I tried a new type of cheese that completely changed my view on what is possible with that topping. With other items I really good a chance to see what options are available to my pizzeria!
