VisualPay Family

CASHMATIC

We help businesses automate their payment processes to deliver an additional service to their customers, enhancing security and efficiency at the point of sale, while allowing staff to concentrate exclusively on delivering exceptional service quality.

Electronic management VisualPay Family

Cashmatic VisualPay is a checkout point designed to guide customers in selecting products and completing purchases independently, using the integrated touch display.

No change, no exchanging coins or banknotes, and greater transparency for everyone: both the buyer and the seller.

Most everyday purchases are completed via credit card, whether for small amounts or large sums. Disbursement times are incredibly fast thanks to contactless technology, which also helps reduce queues at the checkout.

Cashmatic VisualPay is a modular and customisable family of kiosk solutions designed to autonomously manage orders and payments.

VisualPay devices are built to optimise the selection and purchase of products and services in total autonomy.

The touch screen, available in 17, 22, 27, and 32-inch sizes, simplifies selection and use within the installed software application.
The versatility of the VisualPay units enables full customisation, from processor performance to the integration of the latest contactless recognition and payment devices.

Designed with modularity in mind, these devices can be paired with SelfPay line products to create hybrid solutions capable of handling both electronic and cash payments, offering a complete service.

VisualPay Family

VisualPay can be used in every sector and in any situation.

From restaurants and pharmacies to service industries and organised retail, we help our customers automate their payment processes to boost efficiency, enhance security, and allow staff to focus exclusively on the customer experience.

Payment speed

Nobody likes waiting in queue. Many people prefer taking their time and interacting with digital devices for purchases.
Offering VisualPay becomes an added service for customers, providing every possible electronic payment solution.

You configure it how you like, inside and out

VisualPay products offer various configurations and can incorporate accessories designed to enhance the user experience, particularly in terms of payment. They can be installed on top of a SelfPay device, on a counter, or on pedestals of different heights, for a barrier-free experience. Each option is designed for optimal customer interaction and is tailored to the specific needs of the point of sale.

Versatile solutions

Every VisualPay product ensures maximum installation flexibility in any setting – whether countertop, floor-mounted, wall-mounted, or equipped with wheels for added mobility. It can even integrate with devices from the SelfPay family.

Software integration

VisualPay solutions can be configured with PCs of varying performance levels, running Android or Windows operating systems, and capable of installing and running any type of software.

Optimise your purchasing and payment processes
with a single solution

Cashmatic products offer configurable solutions designed to meet the diverse requirements of each Customer.

Our offer also includes a meticulous consultancy service to assist customers in selecting the best configuration, evaluating every aspect: from specific functional requirements to performance and experiential needs.
The VisualPay line enables the creation of a Self Service station capable of replicating the functions of an operator, monitoring performance and reliability, with the option to associate a SelfPay automatic checkout. This combination crates a kiosk capable of managing both electronic and cash payments.

The extensive range of software solutions available on the market, with which Cashmatic products are integrated, and the advanced communication protocols implemented, ensure complete management of checkout operations: from controlling receipts, change, and cash funds to delivering a unique shopping experience for the public.
